

A portrait of Luna Pingston, a young woman with dark, curly hair, smiling. She is wearing a red top and a dark beaded necklace. The background is a warm, indoor setting.

LUNA PINGSTON

ENGLISH TEACHER

Luna is a cheerful and caring teacher from the United States and a native English speaker who brings energy, creativity, and kindness to every class. She has worked with children in summer camps, classrooms, and special education settings—always with a big smile and a heart full of encouragement.

Currently studying English and Philosophy at California State University, Fullerton, Luna loves helping kids express themselves through stories, games, and playful conversations. Her goal is to make learning English feel like an adventure, where every child feels confident, curious, and proud of what they can do.

With Luna, every lesson is a chance to laugh, grow, and discover something new!
