

About Patricia Paigerac

Patricia was born in Martinique, an overseas region of France in the Caribbean, and grew up in Paris, France.

She has lived in several countries including Italy, England, Luxembourg, Denmark, and the United States, which has shaped her broad international perspective.

She is fluent in French, English, and Italian, and is currently studying Japanese and Spanish.

Patricia holds a degree in Early Childhood Development from Saddleback College in Mission Viejo, California, where she gained a strong foundation in child development and early learning.

At the heart of her teaching philosophy is a simple and sincere belief:

“I want children to discover the joy of learning a foreign language.”

With this mission in mind, she approaches each lesson with care, enthusiasm, and a deep commitment to supporting every child’s growth.

Inspired by this passion, she created Chimmy5in1 Language Center as a place where children can joyfully explore and experience the excitement of learning a foreign language.
